Charles P. Adams, Jr.
Managing Partner

Dear Clients and Friends,

Adams and Reese is carefully monitoring Tropical Storm Gustav. It is still early and, as we all know, the path can change at any time, so we are doing our best to be prepared. Our regional footprint with ten offices in nine markets allows us to continue operations and serve our clients no matter how the weather or other events may affect any one of our locations. Our firm has a solid and proven disaster preparedness plan in place. Our physical files, work product, accounting records, email and other electronic data will remain secured. While we certainly hope we never need to use the plan, we want to take this opportunity to provide you with contact information below for each of our offices, should an emergency arise. We will also post regular updates on our website www.adamsandree.com. We stand ready and able to provide any legal services that you might need.

Sincerely,
Adams and Reese LLP
